In 2007 Michael founded Dynamic Vision Inc., a software development agency specializing in healthcare technology systems. In 2013, Michael lead the design and development of the Electronic Visit Verification system for Healthstar, LLC. The HS EVV system combined the state mandated requirement in Tennessee with the day-to-day business management needs of the in-home health providers in the state. This system is now in use in Tennessee, Arizona, Iowa, and Delaware.

In 2015, Michael lead the design and development of a suite of clinical case management products for CareStar, Inc, to be used by the Ohio Department of Medicaid. This system handles the intake, assessment, and care plan generation of thousands of members needing care in the areas of home health, developmental disability, and other forms of long term care.

Michael lives in Georgia with his wife, Danielle and their 5 children.
